BOND IS BACK WITH MI6 DECLASSIFIED ISSUE

#2

ISSUE #2 OUT NOW

(London, UK, February 25th, 2008) Bigger! Better! It's James Bond and beyond! MI6 Declassified, the new full-colour magazine celebrating the world of 007, is back with its second issue after the sell-out success of its debut edition.

The theme of issue #2 is very much 'the Moore the merrier', as we have an exclusive interview with the longest-running James Bond actor Sir Roger Moore, a 30th anniversary celebration of his favourite 007 outing, the first look at "Quantum of Solace", and also an increased page count!

Packed with an arsenal of fascinating features and eye-popping visuals, whether your passion is with the films, books, comics or games, MI6 Declassified will satisfy your appetite for all aspects of the Bond canon.

The second issue includes:

- Sir Roger Moore exclusive interview – my word is my bond
- Quantum Of Solace the first glimpse at Daniel Craig's second James Bond outing
- Ian Fleming his reports on location in Istanbul for From Russia With Love
- Nobody Does It Better The Spy Who Loved Me 30th anniversary
- Collecting the Pan paperback artwork of Sam Peffer
- GoldenEye 007 the legend lives on - the title that changed gaming forever
- Event preview of the Ian Fleming centenary celebrations
- The Midas Touch? Sean Connery on the Goldfinger script
- The Bond Connection a look at the 007 inspired comic book Kiss Kiss Bang Bang
- The Last Word Martine Beswicke on her two Bond girl roles

Issue #2 is now shipping around the world. To order online, visit www.mi6magazine.com
